TANKS BRING NEW ASPECT TO FIGHTING

Major Battle Develops From Chinese Counter-Offensive At Lanfeng

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC STARTS IN POOTUNG

SHANGHAI, May 28 (P).—Flame-spitting tanks led a Chinese counter-offensive that turned scattered fighting along the Lunghai railroad today into one of the major battles of the Chinese-Japanese war.

Both sides declared the fighting at Lanfeng, twenty-eight miles east of Kaifeng, was as intensive and bloody as any in more than ten months of conflict.

Chinese reported several villages razed and more than 1,000 Japanese killed in fighting that spread along the railroad almost to Kweichow, fifty-nine miles east of Lanfeng.

LANFENG RECAPTURED
Chinese reported a tank-led column recaptured Lanfeng, important as a key to defence of Kaifeng, just south of the bend of the Yellow River.

Health authorities in Shanghai disclosed a cholera epidemic had broken out in Pootung, devastated industrial area across the Whangpoo River from the city's International Settlement. No foreigners were among seven reported cases.

An increasingly large number of modern tanks, some equipped with flame throwers, have bolstered the Chinese lines, Japanese reports said.

ADVANCE BASE CAMP STOCKED

Mt. Everest Expedition Making Ready at 21,000 Feet For Final Dash

By W. H. THILMAN
Leader, 1938 British Mount Everest Expedition.

CAMP NO. 3, MOUNT EVEREST, Tibet, May 27 (By Wireless Via London).—Camp No. 3, which stands 21,000 feet underneath the North Col of Mount Everest, has now been fully provisioned. This camp will be used as an advance base of operations for actual climbing, and has been stocked with everything likely to be needed on the mountain.

When the camp was first occupied toward the end of April, the weather was temptingly fine and sunny, but, after living at this height up on the East Rongbuk Glacier for a few days, the party found the wind too violent and the temperatures too low to make so early an attempt on the summit. The climbers inspected the slopes of the North Col. Although there was a good deal of ice about, it was found feasible to make the route up the Col, given a day or two of calm weather.

As all the members of the party were suffering from sore throats and coughs, it was decided to spend a few days in the Kharta Valley, a hospitable area to the south of the Rongbuk Monastery, where we got fit again.

VANCOUVER, May 27 (P).—Police tonight pressed a search for a day-light bandit, who held up a sixty-four-year-old clerk in McKee's clothing store here today and escaped with $45, a hat and a new pair of trousers. He left his old pair.

E. S. Jackson suffered minor injuries when the bandit struck him. The attack was made after the man tried on a new pair of trousers.

De Valera Goes to Country For Clear Mandate After House Defeat

ANGLO-IRISH TREATY AID TO GOVERNMENT

DUBLIN, May 27 (P).—Determined to seek a clear mandate to carry on the work of national reconstruction, Prime Minister de Valera of Eire today decided to dissolve the Dail Eireann, the Lower House of Parliament. A general election was called for June 17.

The Prime Minister was known to have felt keenly the insecurity of the Government because it is in the position of being an actual minority of one as compared with all other parties in the Dail.

ATTACK THROUGH MOUNTAIN RANGES

Insurgents Seek to Shatter Rear-guard and Front Line Resistance at Once

HENDAYE, France, May 27 (P).—Spanish insurgent armies attacked today through mountain ranges north of Valencia and northwest of Barcelona.

Air raids which extended to Cerbere, France, last night bore evidence they were campaigning to shatter rear-guard and front line resistance at the same time. Insurgent advances reported occupation of El Castellor, nearly sixteen miles east of Teruel and sixty-five miles from the coast, in the drive toward the Teruel-Segundo highway.

Jobless Camping in Postoffice Establish Health Service

VANCOUVER, May 27 (P).—Vancouver health authorities said today they were keeping a close watch on the 700 unemployed holding the Central Post-office and Art Gallery to prevent any outbreak of contagious diseases. E. L. Slevin, chief sanitary inspector, said he was making daily inspection of the men. The men at the postoffice established their own health service, he said.

Already this impromptu bureau of hygiene has sent one man to a distant relative because he contracted scabies. Another demonstrator suffering from the "itch" was referred to a physician. The sanitary inspector said the men in both buildings were giving him their full co-operation and had promised to report any suspicious symptoms among their number.

CROP OUTLOOK ON PRAIRIES IS GOOD

Seeding of Wheat Practically Complete—Moisture Conditions Best in Ten Years

WINNIPEG, May 27 (P).—The Western Canada wheat crop is now practically all seeded under the best moisture conditions since 1923, the Searle Grain Company, of Winnipeg, stated today in its first crop report. The report, based on 1,094 replies from Western Canada correspondents, states moisture condition now is 92 per cent of normal, compared with 72 per cent last year. Seeding is completed in Manitoba and will be finished in Alberta and Saskatchewan in less than a week.

Acresage decrease for the three provinces of 6 per cent amounts to approximately 1,500,000 acres, largely in Saskatchewan. A second drawing tomorrow will split $1,160 each to holders of fifty tickets which will be drawn for residual prizes and $100 each to holders of 100 tickets. Continued on Page 5, Column 4

TO SHORTEN RAIL PROBLEM

Committee Hears More Evidence on Savings Under Unification Plan

OTTAWA, May 27 (P).—When the special Senate committee studying the railway problem reconvenes on Tuesday it will be furnished with memoranda which, it is expected, will shorten the inquiry. Several senators have protested that questioning of witnesses has occupied too much time and could be avoided if comprehensive memoranda were provided.

Friday's session saw T. E. MacDonnell, president of the Canadian Pacific Express Company, and R. A. Pyne, motive power superintendent of Canadian Pacific Railway Western lines, give evidence. Mr. MacDonnell's testimony related to estimated saving of $1,450,000 a year, if the express systems of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National Railways were unified.

ON CUT-RATE BASIS

Mr. MacDonnell declared the Postoffice Department's action in raising the weight limit for parcel post from fifteen to twenty-five pounds last year had cut into the express business. To meet that both the C.P. and C.N. companies were forced to drop their rates. Thus, two departments of Government, the Postoffice and the Canadian National Express Company, were competing on a cut-rate basis.

The evidence of Mr. Pyne had to do with cost of C.P.R. machine shops. He presented figures showing the turnover in the shops of the system, emphasizing they were not

REBEL LEADER HIDES IN BUSH

Plane of Mexican General Forced Down by Federal Airmen

SAN LUIS POTOSI, Mexico, May 27 (P).—Federal Government aviators today forced down an airplane carrying rebel General Saturnino Cedillo, whose peasant army has clashed with Federal troops for a week, fled with five followers.

Troops quickly surrounded the site of the forced landing, at Estanzuela, about nine miles northwest of here. Cedillo and his followers had jumped from the plane and fled into thick brush.

Reports reached San Luis Potosi that the rebel chieftain had been captured, but they were not confirmed officially. In fleeing, Cedillo left behind five suitcases.

OUTBREAK SHORT LIVED

The first clash between Cedillo's rebels and 11,000 Government troops occurred a week ago today, when eighteen rebels and three Federal men were reported killed. The Cedillistas were estimated as high as 12,000.

Before the clash, Cardenas charged Cedillo had sought the aid of the eighteen British and United States oil companies whose property was expropriated by the Government on March 18. The Government announced it had uncovered documents showing Cedillo promised return of the expropriated $400,000,000 properties to the owners in return for aid.

GERMANS HELD AS WITNESSES

Four of Liner's Crew Must Testify in United States Spy Investigation

NEW YORK, May 27 (P).—United States Attorney Lamar Hardy announced tonight four crew members of the German liner Bremen, now in port, would be held as material witnesses in the United States Government's espionage investigation here.

Captain Adolph Ahrens and several officers and crew members, subpoenaed when the ship arrived yesterday, testified today before a special Federal grand jury. They presumably were questioned regarding the flight to Germany on the liner's last trip of Dr. Ignatz Griebel, scheduled witness in the spy inquiry started a few months ago. Dr. Griebel sailed without a passport, and the liner's officers ignored a United States Government request to surrender him when the ship stopped at Cherbourg, France.

HELD IN BAIL

The four were arraigned on an affidavit signed by Leon Turrou, G-man assigned to the case, and held in bail as follows:

Wilhelm Boehnke, listed as pantryman, but said to be "political leader" of the ship, $15,000; Johann Kiebler, second radio officer, $15,000; Walter Otto and Johann Hart, seamen, $5,000 each.

Elwood Cohalan, lawyer for the North German Lloyd Line, said he had been instructed to put up bail. Federal Judge Vincent Leibel said: "I want them to understand that they are not to leave the jurisdiction of this court or to leave the country."

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

GERMAN AGENT IN CANADA CAUSES STIR
OTTAWA, May 27 (P).—Rumors a German mystery man, Emil Karl Gerhardt, formerly an instructor at the University of Western Ontario, London, was in Eastern Canada on a secret mission, stirred speculation in this capital tonight after a controversy in the House of Commons over reports German interests were negotiating for purchase of Anticosti Island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Hitler Officially Reported as Determined to Preserve Peace in Spite of Alleged Provocation—Scheduled Rally of Sudeten Germans Postponed Until October to Avoid Trouble

Efforts for Reconciliation Meet With Slow Progress

BERLIN, May 27 (P).—As if by order, the German press today ceased abruptly its blasts against Czechoslovakia and Western democracies it accused of pro-Czechoslovak sympathies. The lull in hostile talk was said in official quarters to be due to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's firm determination to preserve peace in spite of "provocations" by the Czechoslovaks. It was announced also a rally of Sudeten German students scheduled for June 2 at Usti, Czechoslovakia, near the German border, had been postponed until October in order to avoid possible trouble.

THREE BOYS STEAL YACHT

Coast Guards Scour Sea And Air for Daring Young Adventurers

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., May 27 (P).—Three young boys rode farther on the highroad of adventure tonight aboard a stolen yacht—with coast guard craft and merchantmen scouting the seas for them.

Where the fifty-three-foot Diesel-motored sloop Tira and its crew—Lyle Tara, seventeen; James Henninger, seventeen, and Bill Grace, sixteen—were headed no one knew. Probably Honolulu, their parents guessed.

LAI IN STORES

Nor did anyone know how well the trim craft was provisioned, but Mrs. Paul Tara said her son had been taking provisions to his rowboat for several days prior to his disappearance apparently in preparation for a trip of some kind. It was believed the other boys also had been laying in groceries.

The boys and the sloop, property of Lew K. Foote, creamery operator, first were missed on Wednesday night. Next day the coast guard was called into the hunt, but although both surface and aircraft responded no trace of the yacht had been found. Airplanes scouted as far as 100 miles offshore and the cutter Shoshone cruised at sea at the discretion of its commander.

ABANDON SEARCH

At San Francisco coast guard officials said no further air search would be made because the yacht probably was far at sea by now. Friends of Tara said he had some experience in navigating and sailing, but parents of all the boys expressed doubt they knew how to operate the Tira's Diesel engine. Mrs. Tara said her son had taken a compass and charts.

What action, if any, will be taken against the boys if, and when they are apprehended was not disclosed.

POSTPONES SESSION

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, May 27 (P).—The Government tonight postponed indefinitely the special session of Parliament called for next Tuesday, as it faced slow progress in efforts to reconcile differences with the autonomy-demanding Sudeten German minority.

It had expected at that time to submit for legislative approval the nationalities statute, designed to solve the country's problem with its minorities.

It was reported unofficially, the Czechoslovaks hoped to have ready by tomorrow an outline of the maximum concessions.

DEMONSTRATING BALLOON TRAPS

Gas Bags and Steel Network Will Be on Public Trial Today

LONDON, May 27 (CP-Havas).—London's gigantic balloon barrage, designed to trap airplanes which attempt to bomb or gas the capital in time of war, will be given its first public demonstration tomorrow during Empire Air Day celebrations at Caddington Air Centre.

The barrage consists of a series of inflated gasbags moored to the ground and linked together by steel cables. It has been estimated they will make it about 25 per cent more dangerous for a raiding plane to attack London than if the capital were protected only by anti-aircraft units and defence planes.

Already 800 gasbags have been manufactured, and twenty units of ten men each to manage them have been trained. Each unit is equipped with a six-wheel tractor and a trailer carrying all material needed to inflate and anchor the balloons.

WILL TAKE OVER BANK OF CANADA

Prime Minister Announces Government's Intention of Acquiring Privately-Owned Stock

OTTAWA, May 27 (P).—After three years of life, the Bank of Canada is to become a wholly publicly owned institution. Subject of many a sharp debate in the House of Commons and of many a political speech on the hustings, the bank's purpose and function will again come under review of Parliament this session.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today the Government had decided to acquire complete ownership of the bank and to take over the 100,000 shares now in the hands of the public. Legislation to this end will be introduced before the end of the present session.

The present shareholders will be compensated for their stock on the basis of the average price at which the shares have sold on the market in 1938. Recently, it has been quoted at $59 a share.

Flood Danger In Kootenays Is Now Over

NELSON, May 27 (P).—The worst danger from swollen Spring freshets in the Kootenays was said to be over tonight, and Public Works Department and railway officials reported "everything quiet." Some creeks and streams, which rose to flood stage when a hot sun melted snow in the hills, were dropping, and others were believed to have reached the peak.

Co-operation Needed To Foster Tourist Trade in Province

Major J. Gordon Smith Tells Real Estate Board Of Results Obtained in California by United Action, and Offers Suggestions

"TAKING everything into consideration with such fragmentary information as is available respecting the varied phases, the tourist traffic of British Columbia last year can be conservatively estimated as totaling from $35,000,000 to $37,000,000, as compared with about $30,000,000 in the preceding year," declared Major J. Gordon Smith, commissioner of tourist development for British Columbia in addressing the Real Estate Board yesterday in Spencer's dining-room.

Major Smith said that there were indications that a marked development of the tourist trade might be expected this year. Many of the forms of tourist trade are capable of considerable extension, said the speaker. "The markets for motor traffic can be much extended. At present about 91 per cent of the motoring travel enjoyed by British Columbia comes from the three Pacific Coast states, with a further 4 per cent from the other Western states. The central groups of states furnish about 3 per cent. California, by dint of its national advertising campaign, draws about half of its total motor traffic from these central groups, and Oregon, which, during the past two years, has also advertised on a national basis, now draws about 10 per cent of its motor traffic from these states. With further propaganda directed to this area and energetic promotion, it is likely that British Columbia could extend its motor traffic from this region. Also, some of the varied phases of tourist traffic are also capable of augmentation."

WHAT CALIFORNIA DID
Major Smith told of the development of the All-Year Club formed in Southern California in 1921 to bring about the objects set out in the name of the organization, instead of having the tourist trade confined to the winter months. A few Los Angeles businessmen put up a fund of about $46,000 to advertise among Eastern residents of the United States the attractions of California in the summer. In a few years the advertising was increased to over half a million.

The results were phenomenal, and last year the tourist trade in Southern California was second only to the petroleum industry, visitors circulating over $216,000,000 there. With the tourist money spent in Central and Northern California last year, the total for the state was placed at $280,000,000.

The speaker said that the people of the province and of Victoria especially were becoming tourist-conscious. What was needed was to have the various agencies concerned in the trade co-operating to the fullest extent. Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Trade and Industry, was well aware of the importance of the tourist trade and would render all the assistance possible.

The department was extending its field of operations to include Oklahoma and Texas, in addition to the Coast states. This year there had been so far over 3,000 letters and circulars sent by the bureau to potential visitors who had sought information from the advertising put out.

In addition, the bureau sent copies of these letters to Victoria, Vancouver and other tourist associations that would be directly interested.

UNITED STATES FIELD

The United States was a fruitful field for tourists. It had been estimated that $5,000,000,000 a year was spent by the people of that country on travel and pleasure. On Vancouver Island they had the attractions. There must be developed, said Major Smith, the accessories in the way of hotels and good roads, together with other features of what was a competitive business.

In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, Major H. C. Holmes referred to the necessity of maintaining Vancouver Island as a beauty spot.

The president, David Leeming, expressed his delight that the province was giving attention to this tourist industry. He considered that British Columbia was not getting its share of the $5,000,000,000 spent by tourists, as mentioned by Major Smith.

Mr. Leeming believed that the importance of good roads was not fully appreciated in the tourist trade. He was a firm believer in the importance of the Alaskan Highway.

SPEEDY FLIGHT FROM SEATTLE

Frank Fuller Covered 140-Mile Hop to Vancouver In Thirty Minutes

VANCOUVER, May 27 (C)—Frank Fuller, Jr., United States speed flyer, landed at Vancouver Sea Island airport today, a half-hour after taking off from Seattle. Distance between the two cities is 140 air miles.

He will take off from here at noon tomorrow in an attempt to set a speed record between Vancouver and Oakland, Cal. He expects to cover the 1,000 miles in three hours.

Fuller left Seattle at 2:17 p.m. (P.S.T.) and landed here at 2:47 p.m.

He was greeted by Mayor George C. Miller, Alderman H. D. Wilson and William Templeton, airport manager. Fuller presented the mayor with an official invitation to attend the San Francisco Exhibition.

NO PESSIMISM AT CONVENTION

Credit Granters Not Alarmed By Business Conditions, L. E. Evenden Says

L. E. EVENDEN

Little pessimism concerning business conditions is to be found among credit men of the Pacific Northwest states, according to L. E. Evenden, president of the Victoria Credit Granters' Association, who has returned from the three-day district conference of credit granters' associations of British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Alberta and Alaska, held in Portland.

United States delegates to the conference had to admit that they were not doing quite as much business as at the corresponding period last year, but they were not alarmed, as collections had not declined, Mr. Evenden said yesterday.

The present business recession in the United States was attributed in part to the long-term selling of the last two or three years, he continued. The opinion generally expressed at the conference was that long-term credit was not advisable, and during the last year the credit granters of practically all districts reduced their terms to a maximum of two years, and some even brought them down to eighteen months.

BENEFIT TO BOTH
The shortening of terms had been found to benefit the customer as well as the merchant, Mr. Evenden declared. Long-term selling tied up the customer for too long a period, and put him out of the market for the time being.

Victoria delegates to the conference were Mr. Evenden, of the Hudson's Bay Company; O. M. Prentice, David Spencer, Limited; L. Cuming, British Columbia Electric Railway Company; George E. Macdonald, Macdonald Electric, Limited, and E. P. Johnston, The Colonist. About 400 delegates attended the convention.

Also visitors to Portland were Miss Edith Corin, of the Victoria Credit Bureau; Miss Kathleen Knapp, Christopher & Swaine, and Miss Jean Drysdale, Victoria Paper Box Company, who attended the Credit Women's Breakfast Club conference, a branch of the main convention.

GENERAL ELECTIONS CALLED FOR JUNE 17

of civil servants—a step the Government opposed—gave Mr. de Valera the chance. He was determined to seize it, although the defeat did not compel him to do so under the constitution.

He will go to the country while his political credit is high, due to his success in reaching an agreement with Great Britain to settle differences of long standing.

Parliament had been adjourned until May 31 following the adverse vote.

Under the new constitution dissolution of the Dail means selection of a new Senate, but the present Upper House, only recently chosen, will continue for three months.

SHORT ELECTION CAMPAIGN

A short election campaign faced Eire. Government supporters were quick to remark that they expected the Prime Minister to make a strenuous appeal for a strong working majority in Parliament, based on his success in reaching an accord with Great Britain to end years of bitter feeling.

It will be the second general election within a year. Last July 1 Mr. de Valera went to the country seeking re-election as well as ratification of his new constitution. He succeeded in both, but lost some ground in the Dail.

While his Fianna Fail party emerged as the strongest group in the Dail with sixty-nine members, that figure was exactly equal by the combined forces of the Fine Gael headed by William T. Cosgrave, Labor and Independents. Fine Gael has forty-eight members, Labor thirteen and Independents eight.

AIDED BY INDEPENDENTS
When a Speaker was chosen, therefore, the Government had sixty-eight Dail members to sixty-nine for all other groups. However, on most occasions a number of Independents supported the Government and it was not until last Wednesday that all Opposition groups combined effectively to administer a defeat to the Government.

Because of the election, the installation of Dr. Douglas Hyde as President, originally set for June 1, was postponed indefinitely.

PRESSURE BROKEN

Chinese declared the recapture of Lanfeng had broken Japan's pressure on Kaifeng, which the Japanese must capture to reach Chengchow, junction of the Lunghai and the important north-south Peiping-Hankow railroad.

Japanese themselves said twenty Chinese divisions, including about 100,000 well-equipped soldiers, were making a stand at Lanfeng comparable in scope to the defence of Suchow, which fell just a week ago after a fierce month-long battle.

The Chinese forces were said to include fresh troops and units of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's crack Central army which escaped when Suchow fell.

VILLAGES BOMBED

Twenty villages between Kaifeng and Kweichow were bombed yesterday by Japanese warplanes with heavy casualties. Coupled with the air raids through Honan Province, the Japanese air force struck unexpectedly in South China, bombing eight Chinese airdromes in Chekiang and Fukien Provinces.

To Hold Annual Reunion Tonight

Members of the 15th Brigade, C.F.A. Association, will hold their annual reunion tonight at 7 o'clock in Spencer's dining-room. One hundred members of this unit, with a number of other artillerymen, will be in attendance.

Word was received yesterday that Bill Creech, Ernie Greenwood and J. Bamford, who are now residents of Seattle, will be here for the event. Other artillerymen will be here from Up-Island points and Vancouver. A fine programme has been prepared. Ted King, president of the association, will preside.

FOREST BLAZE IS CONTROLLED

Extensive Fire in Prince George Region Stopped at Newlands by Crews

Fire sweeping through the North, south of Eaglet Lake, and extending over a wide front in the Prince George area was reported under control yesterday, with fifty men fighting the flames under supervision of the Forest Branch.

Wireless reports to the Provincial Government stated the towns of Giscombe and Newlands had been saved, and the fifteen-mile outbreak brought under control. Few details were learned of the outbreak, which began on Saturday last at Willow River and spread over a considerable area in the North.

At Horne Lake on Vancouver Island a routine forest fire was reported during the day.

SENATE AMENDMENTS ADOPTED IN COMMONS

OTTAWA, May 27 (C)—Senate amendments to the bill amending the Copyright Act were adopted in the House of Commons tonight without debate. The bill, sponsored by W. K. EMPIRE WHEAT

There appear to be long drawn out negotiations for an Anglo-American trade agreement, and, similarly, considerable delay over a revised Canadian-American reciprocity pact. The present session of Parliament at Ottawa has heard nothing of what progress is being made, and no indication of what effect these prospective treaties will have on the Ottawa economic agreements which gave such a fillip to intra-Empire trade. From time to time, however, some information leaks out respecting what is proposed. It appears that the United States is pressing for a reduction, or the abolition, of the two shillings a quarter duty chargeable on American wheat entering the United Kingdom for consumption. The United Kingdom preference of two shillings a quarter on Empire wheat was guaranteed under the Ottawa Agreement of 1932. It has been of material value.

Such a concession to the United States as is proposed would hurt Australia more than Canada, because this country enjoys a world monopoly in strong wheat, whereas Australia competes with soft white bounty-grown wheat from Continental countries. Great Britain is now the only open market for the Australian surplus. The preference protects that market against the product of American, Argentine, Russian and Balkan competitors. In commenting on the suggested change, Mr. George W. Walker, of the Lindley Walker Wheat Company, of Sydney, N.S.W., says:

"A consequence of the removal of the two shillings a quarter preference would be that Continental countries would dump their early crop deliveries of wheat and flour on the free British market and import equivalent supplies of strong wheat from exporters producing these varieties. It is not possible to develop Eastern markets for Australian wheat while the Oriental trade is demoralized. In recent years world import requirements of wheat have shrunk from 800,000,000 bushels to 500,000,000 bushels per annum, and of this quantity the United Kingdom requires about 50 per cent. Hence, to maintain the Australian wheat industry, and the country's economic balance, it is imperative that the two shillings a quarter preference be retained."

FRANCE'S PROBLEMS

France is undergoing a period of penitence following prodigality in her national finances. It is the inevitable consequence suffered by any nation that overpays, but France's real problem is more social than financial. What she requires, more than anything else, according to Mr. Sisley Huddleston, writing in The Contemporary Review, is a return to discipline, to order, to legality. She has to divorce herself from the gospel of idleness preached and practised "with such lamentable effects." What the country wants is a non-sectarian government.

Mr. Huddleston considers that France has reached a crisis in her national career, and upon the outcome hinges her place in Europe. One essential, in his opinion, is an immediate Franco-Italian reconciliation and an understanding with Nationalist Spain. France's task, in short, is to repair the ravages of the Popular Front, that experiment that seems to have been inspired by Bolshevist Russia. It is essential that France should be strong and united. In her efforts in this direction she has the staunch support of Great Britain, and she has the warning of the expansion of Germany in Middle Europe, an expansion which may ultimately, unless she engages in political, financial and social reforms, threaten her security. The Daladier Government is in power at a turning point in French history.

ON IMITATING OUR NEIGHBORS

The opinion is held in some quarters and has, indeed, recently found expression in the Letters to the Editor that our true policy as a nation consists in following the example of our neighbors to the South, in taking their manners and customs, their opinions and their general attitude to and outlook upon the world as furnishing a proper pattern for us to follow. In particular we are advised to cultivate in our inner lives a sincere belief in our own good qualities, to form the habit of expressing ourselves in that sense without too much restraint; in short that we should have "a gude conceit o' oorsels" and let other people know it. We are told that it pays to speak well of ourselves; that it not only strengthens our own morale, but also impresses other people favorably. We are further told that the history of the United States is a sufficient proof of the soundness of this policy. What do our people think of this advice? It is a policy and a course of life which has not hitherto recommended itself to the majority of Canadians. In their opinion it would be likely to prove detrimental to the proper development of the national character.

It is surely a mistake to suppose that a man can attain to anything worth while by such a device as mechanical imitation. It is not by putting off one garment and putting on another in accordance with the fashions in vogue in foreign lands that a man or a nation achieves greater moral stature. A wise man once said that if people could only contrive to be, not too unobtrusively, their simple selves they would be both delightful and original, whereas if the foreign polish or plating rubs off, as it is likely to do at points which come to much wear, they become liable to suspicion as to the quality of the metal underneath.

A literary politician of some eminence who believed that important truths can be most effectively expressed by concrete illustration clothed in a homely language, told the following story in order to enunciate a principle which the wide-awake reader may be trusted to realize at a glance. The teller of the tale said that one day he met an old friend who was in high spirits over a new venture. He had learned that the wild duck owes its exquisite flavor to the wild celery upon which it feeds. He said that he was going to raise wild celery and domestic ducks on a large scale, feed the celery to the ducks, capture the market, and make his fortune. A year or so later the two friends met again, but the poultry man was in low spirits. When asked what had happened to the duck-and-celery scheme he replied sadly that "the damned things wouldn't eat it."

The most careless and casual reader can hardly fail to detect the true import of this story, but in case its deep meaning eludes him altogether, let it be said at once that this tale bids us beware of the false notion that institutions and customs that serve the needs and assist in the development of one country are bound to prove beneficial to another. It is true that a social custom, a cultural idea, an educational device may be imported into one country from another and may, after modification and adaptation, survive in a new environment. The significant point is, however, that no importation of the kind can survive unless it is capable of being adapted and domesticated. Experience and common sense agree that the most natural and healthy development and improvement of the institutions of any country are those that proceed upon native lines and in accordance with native tradition. Our traditions come down to us from a remote past. From their earliest beginnings in the Old Land there has been no break in continuity. It is not necessary for us to look abroad for any pattern to "imitate."

PENSIONS FOR THE BLIND

The plan of pensions for the needy blind is working well, according to the last issue of the quarterly publication of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. The scheme, which is a joint arrangement between the Federal and Provincial Governments, came into operation after the Federal act of a little more than a year ago was followed by the necessary regulations in the various Provinces. Up to the end of March, 1650 sightless persons had received pension cheques, distributed as follows: British Columbia, 47; Saskatchewan, 53; Manitoba, 82 (of whom 41 were in the City of Winnipeg); Ontario, 883; Quebec, 566; Prince Edward Island, 22; New Brunswick, 66; Nova Scotia, 131. Delay in the agreement between the Alberta and Dominion Governments postponed the issuance of cheques in that Province till the present month. In all the Provinces many applications are not yet dealt with, but it is expected that the slate will be cleaned within a few months. The pension is $25 a month for needy blind forty years of age and over. The happy result for many who sit in darkness will be a comfort and sense of security of which they hitherto have been bereft.

Mahatma Gandhi says: "For the first time in fifty years I find myself in the slough of despond. All about me is darkness." With him, as with others, "the mind is its own place, and in itself can make a heaven of hell, a hell of heaven."

SAVE THE MATCH!

The careful landlady planted trees in verdant groves, the eye to please. They grew and flourished, rich in game and timber—till the tripper came. "I'll light a cigarette," he said. And lit five miles of woods instead. High on that hill, in days of old, The horse displayed its honeyed gold. And thousands went there to admire The view—till it was set on fire. "I'll light my pipe," some idiot said, And lit the mountainside instead. You visitors who roam afar On foot, on cycle, or by car, By all means smoke when you're inclined, Provided you will bear in mind The match is not invented yet Which only lights a cigarette. —Truth.

There is a transcendent power in example. We reform others unconsciously when we walk uprightly. —Madame Swetchine.

By Sandham Graves

Monstrous, sleepy-headed cat! Your idleness affronts a world that fusses, fumes and toils without avail. Day after day you stretch your length across the forefront of the window; a winding, coal-black yard of studied insolence. Like Diogenes of old, you open up your eyes and grimace protest if human beings dare to stand between you and the sun. What care you for Alexander, or any other Great who has known before or since? Nothing. What care you for the world's hopes and sorrows of the world of man, passing in procession, twelve inches from your flattened, scornful nose? Less than naught, so long as the procession passes by and stays not to blot the sunshine from your lazy, curling loins. There in the window, hour by hour, you stretch at ease, asleep or dozing in a hundred cat-naps. 'Tis so you pass your days. How of your nights, friend cat? That whiskered cheek, those wide green eyes, that length of powerful limb with rippling muscles, covered over with a furry coat of midnight black, could be a dangerous prowler after dark. Do mice, at play around the lily bulbs, scream suddenly when caught in those green headlights; or, voiceless, freeze with horror while you tip-toe up to them? You sleep so much by day, perhaps you hunt each night. Say now, those muscles never came from lying full length in the sun, pressed flat against a sun-drenched pane of glass. What's that? You're minding your own business, and we'd best do likewise! Well, perhaps you're right. We've often said as much to others. Still, cat, your seeming idleness offends; while others fret and fume throughout the waking day. I warn you, cat, your habit is contagious. Some day I'll say to you: Move over, and let another idler sleep.

Censorship seems to hang in the air these days. The British Columbia Liquor Control Board this week banned the sale of Delft or china pitchers on the ground that a verse on the pitchers offended the advertising clauses of the Liquor Control Act. The offending verse was cited as follows:

"Primes may revel at the pump,
Peers at the tap make free;
Spirits, or wine, or even beer
Is good enough for me."

The decision of the Liquor Control Board seems somewhat on the side of hair-splitting. Without endorsing the sentiment of the verse, the fact remains that the ban on the sale of pitchers was made known on the same day the Liquor Control Board reported sales of $14,000,000 worth of its goods to the public, and the return of profits of $4,042,000 to the Provincial Treasury; an ironic coincidence. If the board is really out to censor the language, it had better hunt up the verses of Omar Khayyam. There is a little reference to a jug there. Nor would it stop there. In fact, the board would require several lifetimes to censor the masters of English alone before getting down to jingles on poetry.

It was a flattering title that Chelalis Indians gave the Honorable the Minister of Lands the other day: Chief of the Big Timbers. The Minister was inducted as honorary chief of the tribe at a gathering of 500 British Columbia and Washington Indians at Harrison Hot Springs this week. There is significance in the title. A tree sends its roots firmly down into the ground; but keeps its topmost branches raised to the skies. It stands in company with its fellows before the blast of wind from the North, South, East and West. It stretches out its branches at measured intervals along its trunk, enjoying both the sunshine and the rain. If it be big timber, it may have started life as much as 1,000 years ago, and be old in wisdom and experience, though sturdy of heart. The chief of the big timbers would be the best of the lot, a monarch of the forest. So, on the whole, the name was a colorful choice; redolent with meaning. It may even be a little hard to live up to in a human forest.

Perhaps you heard Beatrice Lillie ask for the table napkins? It was a very special piece of business. She entered the store without a care on her mind. All she wanted was "a dozen double-damask dinner table napkins," or something like that. After a round or two with the sales clerk, she was asking for "a dabble dozen dimick damner napkins." The fun grew fast and furious. The sales clerk was joined by a floorwalker, and the floorwalker by a department manager. All three of them tried it in turn. In the end Beatrice Lillie left without her purchase, saying that it really didn't matter; she did not want the "nipper damkins" any-

(From The Daily Colonist of May 28, 1888)

Excitement at Fever Heat—On Saturday evening, the streets of Port Townsend were a scene of turmoil and riot. The Coast Seamen's Union forcibly took from a boat the sailors shipped for the ship Sumatra, although the men were willing to go. A dispatch says: "The citizens have at last wakened up, and the excitement is at fever heat. Some of the citizens are arming themselves, and if the sailors are found, they will be forced on board the Sumatra at any cost. Sheriff Sheehan has taken the union agent to his office, apparently under arrest. The action of the union causes the climax of outrages, and the citizens are thoroughly aroused."

To Inspect Coal Deposit—The steamer Maude will leave this evening for Graham Island, having on board J. Hardy and others, who will inspect the anthracite coal deposits on that island. The mine has been bonded, and should it prove of sufficient extent to permit of it being profitably worked, a company of capitalists will at once proceed to open it up.

Fire on View Street—On Sunday morning, at 7 o'clock, a fire was discovered in a woodshed in the rear of Charles McCuskey's residence on View Street. An alarm from the Deluge bell brought the firemen to the spot a few minutes later, and they soon had the flames under control, although not before the roof of the kitchen and the roof of an adjoining building had caught.

Certain ladies seem to be rather exacting in their demands of postmasters and postal clerks. One of the delegates to the postmasters' convention held here this week told the conference that ladies sometimes became quite indignant when he refused to give them stamps for them and stick them on the envelopes. His remark was prompted by a suggestion that the postal department should be asked to issue stickers for attachment to letters received unsealed. The delegate declared that there were already far too many things to be asked in a post-office. "I'm not going to be a public lickster for anybody," he said.—R.M.

Old World Custom

Undoubtedly much old world charm clings to Victoria. As a single instance, we know a shop where the two assistants are not allowed to touch the cash register. They have to call the proprietor who in turn registers each purchase and hands out the change. Bill, the Broad Street barber is also somewhat old-fashioned. He told us you can find everything in a modern kitchen except the modern dishwasher. We are afraid that our tobaccoist friend is growing old. We heard him remark that a headache at twenty-one is just a headache at thirty-four.

The politician who declares that he will not let the people down, often participates in the passage of legislation that holds them up. Salesman Horace informed us that many a good bricklayer or plumber is spoiled by a college education.—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Sydney Wooderson, Britain's great mile runner, is hoping to break Glenn Cunningham's indoor record of 4:04.4 with a mechanical pace-maker. It will be mounted on a rabbit carriage at the White City Dog Track, and Wooderson hopes to keep close to it all the way. Chic Evans, the only man to win the United States open, national amateur, Western open and amateur golf titles, is retiring from big time competition after thirty-three years. Evans is only forty-eight now. His one great achievement was winning the U.S. open in 1916 with only seven clubs. Jack Rithet, one of the finest local baseballers ever developed, says that Joe Louis is practically certain to retain his title at Maxie Schmeling's expense. He has logical reasons for his prediction.

Since starting his racing career, Seabiscuit has traveled 24,265 miles by rail, including four trips across the continent. Stagehand, fully recovered from his coughing spell, is ready to start in the $10,000 Dwyer Stakes on June 18.

Rumors have it that Frankie Frisch's job as manager of the Cardinals is none too safe these days. St. Louis nine is flourishing near the low rung of the ladder. Today's Province Cup football winners, City over the Navy and West over the Young Liberals.—J.D.

TO CARRY OUT FOREST SURVEY

Plane Chartered to Map Prince Rupert Pulp Region—Ground Party in North

The Provincial Government will send two forest survey parties into the field next week, one under C. W. Phillips to complete ground reconnaissance on Moresby Island, and the other under G. S. Andrews to carry out a special aerial photographic survey of pulpwood resources along tributaries of the Skeena in the Prince Rupert area. The latter trip will involve some 8,000 miles of flying, 3,000 of which will be for vertical photography.

In confirming the programme for the present season, the Forest Survey Division explained that it carried forward work begun in 1936, when aerial photography revolutionized timber methods in so far as this Province is concerned. In that year an aerial survey was made of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo timber belt, followed by a ground survey in the year following.

AIRPLANE CHARTERED

Last year the Division completed the aerial mapping for forest use of the Queen Charlotte Islands, covering Graham and Moresby Islands, which had been partially photographed before by the Royal Canadian Air Force. This year the party under Mr. Phillips will complete the ground reconnaissance of timber on Moresby Island.

The Prince Rupert survey is new, and will involve considerable flying in an area tributary to possible pulp operations in the vicinity of Prince Rupert. Mr. Andrews, who will head this party, made a special study of forest reconnaissance in Europe, and will be in charge of the camera work.

Contract was given by the Government recently to Pacific Airways, Ltd., for the plane to be used on the aerial portion of the survey.

No letter to the Editor will be inserted except the proper signature and address of the writer. This rule admits of no exception. No letter should exceed 100 words in length.

DEWDNEY BY-ELECTION

Sir,—In a letter written by Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., appearing in Sunday's Colonist, he says he cannot understand why Premier Pattullo is so pleased over the result of the Dewdney by-election when 65 per cent of the vote was against the Government. As I see it, the Conservative vote may well be taken as in opposition to the present Government's policy, whereas the C.C.F. vote of 1,646 was registered in opposition to our present "system of government"; hence the C.C.F. vote may be considered as protesting against both Conservative and Liberal parties alike.

The fact should not be lost sight of that Mr. Strachan had two opponents not easy to defeat. Reeve W. A. Jones, well known to the writer for many years, has many outstanding, fine qualities. Both he and Miss Mildred Outerhouse possess likeable personalities. The latter may also lay claim to great platform ability. Such assets are invaluable in election campaigns and contribute greatly toward making a pretty stiff fight for Mr. Strachan, hence victory was all the greater. Surely, then, expressions of pleasure from the winning side should be quite in order. Trusting the above may help remove any hazy doubts that the Dewdney election was not a great victory. It was.

ALICE MCGREGOR,
1190 Camrose Crescent, Victoria, B.C., May 23, 1938.

DEWDNEY BY-ELECTION

Sir,—As Mr. Hunter says in Sunday's Colonist it makes one bluish to think of the brand of provincialism that can construe 2,030 Liberal votes as against 3,546 anti-Liberal votes as a glorious victory. On the same day at Aylesbury, England, there was another election. The Associated Press giving the laconic figures in The Colonist as follows: Conservative candidate, 21,695; Liberal candidate, 10,751; Labor candidate, 7,666.

Yet such an announcement creates hardly a ripple of interest. The only alteration in the lives of the Dewdney residents will be that part of the 35 per cent (the winners) will halt their strawberry picking for a while in order to pick a few of the ripe plums and cut up a few of the still ripper melons.

In most European countries there is one representative for each 60,000 of population. On this basis we would have around twelve representatives in British Columbia. We have to support forty-eight, and when they decide to raise their salaries by $40,000, nobody can do anything about it.

WALTER POSTER,
Colquhoun, B.C., May 25, 1938.

IN HOSPITALS

Sir,—The article on hospitals in yesterday's Colonist should be well circulated among all those who have to do with the organization. I have, unfortunately, trapped hospitals in the interests of sick acquaintances a large proportion of my short and colorless stay in this country, and so have had much experience superficially and second-hand.

These foregoing half-dozen words I mean literally, showing that I do not underrate the technical and punctual qualities of the doctors and nurses. Far from it; and to their credit, no doubt, they are always seeking to improve these qualities. The fault is that the patients are too much treated as numbers, and their ailments, bed-making, feeding, and sleeping have to be ruled too much by the hours indicated by the management, whereas, in reality, every case is

LAND REVERSION HERE IN DECLINE

Figures for Last Year Show Fewer Parcels of Property in City's Hands

Property reversion last year totalled 250, compared with 263 in 1936, according to George A. Okell, city assessor and collector. Of last year's reversions, nine parcels have been redeemed, and it is expected that thirty more will be taken off the list before the deadline for redemptions on December 15.

The city's reverted property list shows $911 vacant lots and 335 parcels of improved land. Their total assessed value is $3,474,230, or 4.71 per cent of the gross assessment.

Enthusiastic efforts of the City Council lands committee and the lands department, under Major M. Kirkpatrick Crockett, have resulted in the return this year of a number of lots to the active tax roll.

to attend this inspection. He will also examine a team from No.

marks in the Dominion. The 13th Field Ambulance team has already won the provincial examination conducted by Major Murray, D.M.O., Military District No. 11.

A dinner has been arranged for anyone interested in first aid at Spencer's dining-room on Saturday, June 4, at 6:15, o'clock when the visitors will be entertained. Ladies

TO MODERNIZE POWER SERVICE

Ladysmith Council Authorizes Construction of New Pole Line

LADYSMITH, May 27.—The City Council endorsed recommendations in a report submitted by the electric light committee at the regular meeting last evening, and work on a new pole line running the entire length of the city will commence without delay.

This will carry three-phase wiring to tap in on overloaded circuits and reduce line loss. Meanwhile, the distributing and transformer substation will be changed from the present location on Esplanade to Sixth Avenue on Methuen Street, eliminating the high line carrying 23,000 volts through the city and replacing them with a 2,200 voltage.

This, it is anticipated, will tremendously reduce power radiation and noise in the local radio field, and remove a long-standing complaint in the vicinity of the high-voltage lines.

The work is part of the plan to modernize the city's electric system, and the unskilled part will be carried by local relief labor.

MARKET SQUARE WORK

Work on improving Market Square has been delayed by lack of heavy machinery, but the Comox company has offered the use of a grader, and the leveling process will be resumed in a few days. Alderman Steele, chairman of works, complained that the work of his department was severely handicapped by lack of heavy machinery for the heavy jobs.

The city will add a voice to the chorus of municipal complaints against the rigid provisions of the amended Hospitals Act, which deny cities and hospitals entering into contract in lieu of a seventy cents per patient day rule. The matter will be aired at the forthcoming session of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in convention, and correspondence before the council indicated the department might lend a sympathetic ear.

The city reserve coffers are practically empty, drained by relief percentage and the total care of unemployables, and the council decided that a delegation, composed of Mayor W. W. Walkem and City
Clerk N. A. Morrison, should interview the Government at Victoria to review the situation.

DROPS BILL TO ABOLISH APPEALS

ered along with abolition of appeals.
Mr. Lapointe agreed.

CENTRAL TRIBUNAL
Mr. Bennett said certain Empire statesmen had long held the view some central tribunal should be set up. It could handle such matters as the Labrador boundary dispute and possibly act as a final court for certain types of cases. Members of the court would be drawn from every part of the Commonwealth.

The question of a central appeal court had been discussed many times, said Mr. Lapointe, but the trend of opinion at Imperial conferences had been that it had been against it. At conferences in 1926 and 1929 there had been almost unanimous favor for an arbitral tribunal to settle differences between Governments, and he himself had spoken in favor of it.

AT EMBASSY DINNER
PARIS, May 27 (P)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor were honor guests tonight at a British Embassy dinner for members of the diplomatic corps and the French Government. It was the first official Embassy reception for the Duke and Duchess, previous visits having been private luncheons and informal calls.

FIGHTING FOR FLYER'S LIFE

Pilot Elliott's Condition Still
"Extremely Serious"
Following Crash

PRINCE GEORGE, May 27 (P)— Doctors fought a desperate battle today to save the life of Pilot Charles Elliott, Vancouver, as the body of Dan Miner, prospector, killed last Sunday in the crash of Elliott's plane, was taken to Fort St. James.

Doctors said Elliott's condition was "extremely serious." He is suffering from double pneumonia, complicated by injuries and shock.
The former Lethbridge flyer's wife was brought here from Vancouver several days ago.

Miner's body was not recovered from the submerged plane until today. He was jammed in the cabin when the machine, caught in a downdraft, plunged into an unnamed lake sixty miles northwest of Fort St. James.

Mrs. Allan East and Bill Martin, injured in the crash, were reported
"o.k." by physicians.

Boxia Fixture—Times
Terriers Win

Outplaying their opponents from the first blast of the whistle, Oaklands snowed the Victoria Indians under a 24-3 defeat in a senior "B" boxia fixture, yesterday evening, at the Royal Athletic Park. Kenny Doug Bray, sharpshooting centre,

The eventual winners set up a 9-0 lead in the first quarter, added five in the next stanza to move out

They fired home four tallies in the third period as the Indians garnered their initial goal. In the final session Oaklanders outscored their opponents, six goals to two.

Art Chapman received a bad cut over his right eye in a collision with Doug Bray, and was taken out

Council Urges That Federal Government Assist Unemployed

Temporary Relief and Works Programme Advocated by Women's Group—Resolutions Endorsed Covering Wide Range of Matters

VANCOUVER, May 27 (P)—The National Council of Women threw its support behind Vancouver's single unemployed late today and urged that the Federal Government offer temporary relief assistance to the men and endeavor to establish a long-term public works programme to meet the unemployment problem throughout Canada.

A week ago today more than one thousand single unemployed marched into three downtown Vancouver buildings and peacefully occupied the ground-floor lobbies. They were paid $500 by the City Council to evacuate Hotel Georgia, but are still in the central post-office and the Civic Art Gallery.

The National Council, now holding its annual convention here, decided to send a telegram to Ottawa requesting that the Federal Government "take immediate action by granting temporary relief and work towards a more permanent solution to the unemployment problem through establishment of a works programme."

The resolution was introduced by Mrs. F. J. Rolston, president of the British Columbia Provincial Council. The preamble said it was feared "serious consequences might ensue if some action were not taken immediately by Federal authorities."

Besides unemployment, the National Council dealt mainly at its afternoon session with resolutions concerning war and human welfare. These were submitted for consideration of the Canadian body by the International Council of Women, whose convention will be held later this year in Edinburgh.

THE RESOLUTIONS

By its voting, the council supported the following resolutions:

1. Reaffirming its desire to put into practice the obligations laid down under the covenant of the League of Nations, including economic and military sanctions (introduced by the National Council of Women in Belgium), and urging restoration of confidence in the League since "international collaboration" was necessary to peaceful solution of world problems, introduced by the N.C.W. of France.
2. Insisting on the "sanctity of international treaties" and observance of international law (introduced by the N.C.W. of the United States).
3. Urging "complete application of the principle of an equal moral standard for both sexes" and "suppression of all regulation of prostitution" on grounds no government

Dressmaking Class Gives a Good Display

A splendid display of garments, made by students of the Dominion Provincial Youth Training Centre, under the direction of Mr. Victor Mott, was seen in the Kingston Street School yesterday afternoon, when, as a conclusion to the classes, the young ladies modeled their own costumes, which they had made during the course. The room was filled to capacity with women interested in the development and efficiency of the class.

Many of the young students had so advanced that they were able to construct their own paper patterns. Good style and fitting were apparent in all the clothes, and several more intricate designs were perfectly sewn and a professional effect achieved.

WELL-TAILORED ENSEMBLES
Beach and sports costumes opened the fashion show, and attractive figured pique, cotton and print frocks carried out the swing skirt mode and back fullness design. The coats were particularly smart and well tailored, while in the town and afternoon ensembles, good style and a splendid variety of color blending were seen. A few children's frocks were shown. In this section a yellow sailor dress, with pleated skirt and sailor collar, was most popular.

The evening frocks included variety of design, and one charming gown of white net had bands of moire in two shades of old rose at the hem, and were inserted at the waistline. A peach taffeta gown featured puff sleeves, finished with a clever band design. The parade concluded with a bride and her attendants, the wedding gown being of white satin, with leg-o'-mutton sleeves.

During the parade, Dorothy Page played pianoforte selections.

THIRTEEN MANNEQUINS

Students taking part in the fashion show were: Margaret Bird, Mary Moore, Margarita Mackenzie, Greta Sheppard, Renee Coles, Adele Murdoch, Virginia Colley, Verna Willey, Diana Darling, Doris Ostertag and Sybil Page. The children showing frocks were Betty Jean Murdoch and Verna Willey.

Miss Edith Callister is head of the dressmaking department, and assisted with the fashion show. Registrations for the next class may be made at the school.

Weddings

KELLY-GODDARD

The marriage took place at Zeballos on May 23 of Virginia Grasse, second daughter of Mrs. L. Goddard, "Sea Point," Sidney, and the late Mr. G. E. Goddard, to Dr. John King Kelly, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Kelly, Regina. The bride has many friends in Victoria, where she attended St. Margaret's School. Dr. Kelly is a graduate of the University of Toronto, later taking post-graduate work in Edinburgh and Vienna.

The wedding was solemnized in the Zeballos Hotel, where an altar was erected with a cross and silver candlesticks. The bridal party stood under an arch beautifully decorated with friends with white flowers and greenery.

The bride, who entered the room on the arm of Mr. J. Hallen, Zeballos, to the strains of the wedding march played on a small organ and violin, looked charming in a rose beige frock of corded silk, the bodice and square-shouldered bolero being of matching lace, trimmed with wide bands of the stitched silk. She wore a white bellboy hat, with a nose veil, tying in a bow at the back, and white accessories. Her bouquet was of pink roses, gardenias and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Kay Brough, the bride's only attendant, looked attractive in a pale blue georgette frock with

Pupils of Miss Clough Appear in Dance Revue

Dancing to suit every taste was included in the programme presented at Miss Florence Clough's annual dance revue at the Royal Victoria Theatre last night, and each of the twenty-two numbers received generous applause from the audience, which numbered several hundreds of persons.

In addition to the tap dances which predominated, there were many delightful interpretive numbers such as "Jungle Captive," "The Surprise Basket," which opened the programme and was a particularly attractive number, in which a diminutive chick emerged from a gayer basket, clever adagio, and "Invitation to a Valse," a ballet number of exceptionally high standard. A cabaret scene which lent variety to the programme, acrobatic dances, Winnie Nan being outstanding in this type, and a gay "Fiesta," which brought the programme to a conclusion, were all worthy of special mention.

Beautiful costumes is always a feature of Miss Clough's recitals and, with the addition of clever lighting which is sometimes difficult to manage in halls less adapted to such entertainment, the effects were unusually good. In the ballet number in the first part of the programme, the setting was particularly effective, the grouping of the ballet dancers being so charmingly arranged that the audience broke into spontaneous applause as the curtain rose on the scene.

NATIONAL DANCES
Among the national and folk dances was a spirited Russian number by Jack Raven; Dutch capers by Barbara Lindal and Nelson Crisp; Hungarian dance by Margaret Walker, Doreen Robson, Jean Ray, Ethel Gills, Theresa Perkins and Thelma Hawkins; Irish ballads, Barbara Anne Crombie; a cleverly-executed number, "Italian Moods," by Nacio Roskelley, and "A Slave to the Volga," by Dan Plaster.

The evident enjoyment of the young performers was appealing and at the close of the revue the children were given beautiful bouquets.

and gifts from their families and friends.

The staging of the entire revue reflected the greatest possible credit to Miss Clough and the stage management was such that one number followed the other in rapid succession, a detail which is sometimes lacking in amateur productions, but one which in no small measure adds to their general finish.

THE DANCERS
The children taking part in the revue were as follows:
Berta Ackers, Verna Aspray, Beverley Joan Bradley, Kathleen Burns, Velma Burr, Lucy Barr, Beverley Bailey, Betty Anne Craig, Nelson Crisp, Barbara Ann Crombie, Patsy Carstens, Mae Comass, Leona Calwell, Ronnie Dalziel, Glenn Dalziel, Shirley Erb, Betty Enoch, Bernice Fawcett, Margaret Fawcett, Dorothy Finn, Evelyn Finn, Joan Fisher, Jacqueline Freer, June Gibson, Ethel Gills, Thelma Hawkins, Coleen Keeler, Rhoda Leeman, Barbara Lindal, Loretta Logan, Patsy McClement, Barbara Meldram, Virginia Moffat, Beverley Mitchell, Joyce Main, Winnie Nan, Irene Nan, Barbara Oakley, Theresa Perkins, Gordon Perkins, Jeannette Paterson, Joan Palmer, Ilace Roskelley, Jack Raven, Betty Randal, Patsy Richardson, Doreen Robson, Ruth Rogers, Shirley Stevenson, Jessie Sutherland, June Sangster, Patsy Taylor, June Tuson, Sheila Warren, Flossie Ray, Jean Ray, Margaret Walker, Velda Wille, Isobel Barnes, Irene Brockington, Francis Borde, Kathleen Gregson, Marjorie Kuwata, Sally Kuwata, Pat Lock, Isobel McAlpine, Mildred McDowell, Ellen Moore, Dorothy Pollock, Betty Schwartz, Marjorie Telford, Phyllis Towler, David Webb, Bob Wornleighton, Jack Keating, Philip Bond, Dan Plaster, Jim McCague, Clifford Moore, Charlie Richards, Betty Young and Sheila Hoddling.

EVERLASTING

"Good morning, Martha, always knitting. Do you find the stockings wear longer if knitted by hand?"
"Wear longer? Yes, of course, mum. You wouldn't believe it, but this pair of my husband's socks I knitted five years ago, and I've knitted new legs to 'em twice and new-footed 'em five times. Seems to me they'll never wear out."

Mr. Zero
England's Leading Woman Author of Thrillers

CHAPTER XXXVII

"With what motive?" Mr. Brook's tone was rather dry.
"One that you've supplied yourself. It's your own suggestion that Sir Francis was Mr. Zero. Lady Colesborough goes to her assignment, taking the pistol with her, and shoots the man who is frightening her. She may have recognized him or she may not. She may have shot in a hurry and only discovered afterwards that she had killed her husband."

Mr. Brook shook his head.
"I do not think so. I cannot believe that her assignment was with Sir Francis; first, because I am quite sure that he would not have risked such a meeting and could have had no possible motive for it, and next because of the unfinished letter. If he had been planning to go out he would either have finished the letter first or put off writing it until afterwards."

Colonel Anstruther received this with scepticism.
"There may be something that we don't know about—unknown factor—there very often is. You make your theory, and something comes along and upsets it. To my mind it's a perfectly plain case as far as the murder is concerned. The unknown factor is that we don't know what Lady Colesborough was up to. She may have been meeting someone or she may not, but I think Colesborough caught her out, and I think she shot him with his own pistol. There isn't a particle of evidence except her own to show there was any other man there at the time—not a particle."

"Well," said Mr. Brook, "I don't agree with you about there being no evidence, because it's an undisputed fact that Mr. Somers was, if not there, at least very near at the time that the shot was fired. He says he was on the edge of the lawn at the point where the path comes out when he heard the shot. We have only his word for that. He may have been nearer—he may have been very much nearer indeed."

Inspector Boyce's chair creaked as he shifted his weight. Colonel Anstruther said, "Bless my soul!" in a startled voice.
"You see," said Mr. Brook, "we have to consider what we know about Mr. Zero. I believe Lady Colesborough was telling the truth when she described the various telephone conversations and the interview she had with him in the yew walk. At this interview, more than twelve hours before the report was afterwards stolen had reached Mr. Lushington, Mr. Zero was making his plans for having it stolen. He knew what it was and when it would be delivered."

"He couldn't have known that Mr. Lushington would take it down to Wellington."
"Consider what he did know, Colonel Anstruther. He knew that Mr. Lushington was going away. He knew that the report would be delivered to him before he went. I think we may assume that he knew Mr. Lushington was in the habit of taking papers away with him. In any case, the last instructions were given to Lady Colesborough by telephone at five o'clock on the Saturday afternoon, some hours after Mr. Lushington had left for Wellington with the report in his possession. It is quite certain that Mr. Zero knew this."

"Now, in looking for Mr. Zero, we have to look for someone who was in a position to know all these things. Mr. Somers is in such a position. He is a member of Mr. Lushington's staff and also of his family. He knew that the report was expected. He actually handled it and conveyed it to Mr. Lushington. He has been under suspicion from the first, but at that time it was considered more than probable that the theft had taken place before Mr. Lushington left town. Mr. Somers had the opportunity of substituting the dummy envelope which was found when Mr. Lushington opened his dispatch-case. In fact, Mr. Somers fills the bill very neatly."

"Mr. Lushington has complete confidence in him, but it is certain that Mr. Somers knew about the visit to Wellington, that he knew about the report, and that he knew the report had been taken to Wellington. He could very easily have rung Lady Colesborough up."

"There remains the damning fact that the man who knew these things was here in the grounds of Cole Lester at the hour of Lady Colesborough's appointment with Mr. Zero, and at the moment when Sir Francis Colesborough was shot."

"Bless my soul!" said Colonel Anstruther in a tone of dismay.
Mr. Brook got up and pressed the bell.

"I think we must ask Mr. Somers to explain himself," he said.

ORDINATION TO BE CELEBRATED

Thirty-Fifth Anniversary of Dr. W. G. Wilson, Rev. J. E. Bell Preaching

In honor of the thirty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Dr. Wilson's ordination to the Christian ministry, a special service has been arranged for Sunday morning at First United Church. Rev. J. E. Bell will preach on "The Work of the Ministry."

Dr. Wilson will speak at the evening service, choosing for his subject "Good People in Strange Places."

Graduating from Knox College, Toronto, in the Spring of 1903, Dr. Wilson was ordained on May 28 of the same year and inducted minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Smith's Falls, Ont., where he spent three years. His second pastorate of five years was spent with St. Andrew's Church, Guelph, Ont., which was followed by ten years of ministry at St. Andrew's Church, Moose Jaw, Sask.

Dr. Wilson's ministry in First Presbyterian Church (now United) of this city began in October, 1921, when he succeeded Rev. Dr. John Gibson Inskut, now of Toronto. His nearly seventeen years of pastorate here will terminate the end of June.

His future work, Dr. Wilson told his congregation last Sunday morning, is at the moment undetermined. He will supply the pulpit of Rev. F. P. Church, Chown Memorial Church, Vancouver, during July and part of August, afterwards attending the General Council of the United Church in September, to the moderatorship of which he was nominated by the British Columbia Conference at its recent session in Vancouver.

The choir music for the Sunday services follows: Morning, selection, "As Pants the Hart" (Sphor), soloist, Mrs. W. H. Wilson; anthem, "Send Out Thy Light" (Gounod). Evening, quartette, "Evening Hymn" (Weber), Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Miss Elsie Robinson, J. M. Thomas, James Loudoun; anthem, "God is a Spirit" (Bennett).

TO PREACH AGAIN AT ST. ANDREW'S

Rev. Dr. J. W. Stevenson, Montreal, Will Take Presbyterian Pulpit As Stated Supply

Rev. J. W. Stevenson, Ph.D., will preach to the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at the morning and evening services tomorrow. Dr. Stevenson, who will be remembered for his preaching service here last year, is coming from Montreal as stated supply until further notice.

PARISH HOLDING COMMEMORATION

Forty-Seventh Anniversary of Dedication of St. Saviour's Edifice To Be Marked

REV. F. V. VENABLES

The forty-seventh anniversary of St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, will be observed on Sunday, with special services both morning and evening. The preacher at 11 o'clock will be Rev. G. R. V. Bolster, and at 7 p.m. the Ven. Archdeacon Nunn. There will be special music, with anthem and solo.

The foundation stone of the church was laid in March, 1891, and two months later the then Bishop of Columbia, Bishop Hills, consecrated the church, assisted by Rev. W. D. Barber (the first rector of the parish), Rev. Arthur Beaudin, Rev. G. W. Taylor and the churchwardens. Previous to this, services had been held since 1888, in a mission hall, which had formerly been a blacksmith's shop, situated on Esquimalt Road. Rev. W. W. Bolton was then priest-in-charge of the mission.

As part of the anniversary commemoration this year, a social gathering will be held in the Parish Hall on Monday evening, May 30, at which Bishop Sexton will be present and address the gathering. There will be refreshments and music.

Rev. F. V. Venables is the present rector.

Evening soloists will be Stanley Honeychurch, singing "O Lord, Be Merciful" (Bartlet), and the choir's anthem will be "The Radiant Morn Hath Passed Away" (Woodward).

Necromancy Is Listed as Sunday Topic

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alas Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday. The golden text is: "Take heed that no man deceive you" (Matthew xxiv, 4).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of His Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night" (Revelation xii, 10).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The understanding, even in a degree, of the divine All-power destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path—the path which leads to the house built without hands, 'eternal in the heavens.'"

WILL CONSECRATE UNIQUE FRONTAL

Decorated From Coronation to Be Placed in St. John's Church Tomorrow Morning

A very interesting event will take place at St. John's Church at the 11 o'clock service tomorrow when the "Coronation" altar frontal will be consecrated.

This frontal is of unique value as it is one of the few altar frontals secured from part of the chancel decorations for the Coronation of King George in Westminster Abbey. These Coronation frontals have been placed in various parts of the Empire, this being the only one in Canada. The latest one made by the Royal School of Art Needlework, Kensington, has just been placed in the chapel of one of the battlements of the British Navy.

The frontal is in loving memory of the late Mrs. D. R. Ker, a prominent worker in St. John's Church.

The services for the day will be Holy Communion at 8 a.m., morning prayer at 11 a.m., when the consecration will take place and the address will be given by Canon Chadwick. At 7:30 p.m. the preacher will be Rev. G. R. V. Bolster.

ASSISTANCE NOT NEEDED

Coast Guard Cutter Taney Escorting Tradewind To Nawiiliwili

HONOLULU, T.H., May 27 (P)—The four-masted auxiliary schooner Tradewind flashed a second SOS today and the United States coast guard cutter Taney began escorting the Pan-American Airways supply ship to Nawiiliwili Harbor, Kauai.

The Taney earlier was ordered back to Honolulu upon receipt of word from the Tradewind it did not need assistance.

The Tradewind, a Canadian-made vessel, had flashed a call for help when its propeller shaft shifted off Kauai Island, ninety miles northwest of Honolulu, allowing water to enter stern tubes.

After the Taney had cleared Honolulu under forced draft, the Tradewind rescinded its SOS, and reported it was proceeding under its own power to Nawiiliwili, on Kauai Island.

WHALING SHIP WAS MADHOUSE

Cruise of New Sevilla to Antarctic Would Make Wonderful Book

GLACE BAY, N.S., May 27 (P)—Five men died and five others went insane on the whaling mother-ship New Sevilla during its seven months in Antarctic waters, according to a letter received here from Dr. McLeish, New Aberdeen, written after the ship had arrived back in Scotland.

The New Sevilla left Halifax last Fall, bound for the Antarctic. In his letter, Dr. McLeish writes in part: "I spent the past seven months on a whaler in the Antarctic. That boat was a madhouse; five men died and five others went insane. I landed 1,006 whales, ranging in length from fifty to 115 feet. We put in 119,000 barrels of oil."

"I received no mail or word from the outside world for four months. We went south as far as the Antarctic as man could go on water and went right to the ice barrier. I cannot possibly explain all that I have seen, but for a man able to write, there was surely material for a wonderful book on this trip, from the day we left Halifax until we reached Scotland."

Michael O'Brien, another member of the crew of the New Sevilla, returned to his home in Halifax and told the same story of the voyage aboard the mother-ship of the flotilla of whaling vessels.

Cutters for Cadets Reach Esquimalt

Through the generosity of a little group of interested Victorians, the Rainbow Sea Cadets are now in possession of two fine cutters. Built to the design of Captain J. A. Phillips, honorary secretary of the Victoria and Island Branch of the Navy League of Canada, the boats will be used for training the boys of the local corps. Well found in all respects, the boats were towed to Esquimalt from Vancouver behind Captain George Kirkendall's launch, and were tested yesterday by crews from H.M.C.S. Naden, and proved all that the builders, Turner Boat Works, had promised.

Don Bradman Sets Sixth World Mark Of Cricket Career

Sensational Australian Player Scores 1,000 Runs During Month of May for Second Time, When He Makes 145 Against Hampshire, Not Out—Considered Game's Best Batsman

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., May 27.—Don Bradman's mighty bat gave the great Australian cricketer his sixth world record today. When he made 145 runs, not out, against Hampshire, Bradman became the first player twice to exceed 1,000 runs in May, opening month of England's cricket season.

His feat was all the more remarkable in view of the fact he has played only three seasons in English cricket—1936, 1937 and 1938—during Australia's Old Country tour. Prior to today he ranked with W. G. Grace, Tom Hayward, C. Hallows and Walter Hammond, great English batsmen who each scored 1,000 runs in May in one season. Bradman's first four-figure total in May was made in 1930.

Replying to Hampshire's first innings total of 157, the touring players declared at 330 runs for one wicket, but rain made further play impossible and the match was abandoned as a draw. J. H. Fingleton completed 123 not out.

GREAT BATSMAN

In eleven years of first-class cricket, Bradman has shown such a capacity for run-getting that he stands out as the leading batsman of modern times. His 450 runs, not out, for New South Wales against Queensland in 1930 stands as the highest individual score ever made in first-class cricket.

Six times the twenty-nine-year-old batting wizard has topped the 300 mark, and his double centuries number thirty, both records. Bradman also leads the world with a batting average to date of 94.23. Including today's century, Bradman has scored 18,921 runs in 228 innings since he reached top-flight cricket, twenty-seven times being not out.

In 1934 he figured with W. H. Ponsford in a record second-wicket partnership against England at The Oval. The pair put on 451 runs before they were separated.

Bradman also holds the run-getting record for an Australian. The Australian has a long way to go to reach the great aggregate of 54,896 runs scored by the late W. G. Grace, cricket's "Grand Old Man," in a career lasting from 1865 to 1908. "W. G." was also a great bowler, taking 2,876 wickets in the forty-three years, but Bradman is particularly known for his batting prowess.

Armstrong-Ross Bout Postponed Until Next Week

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP).—That stubborn fellow, sometimes known as Jupiter Pluvius, gave the Barney Ross-Henry Armstrong world welterweight title fight its second consecutive setback today and caused Promoter Mike Jacobs to postpone the fifteen-round battle, this time until Tuesday night.

Not only was the big Madison Square Garden bowl on Long Island thoroughly soaked from heavy rains yesterday and this morning, but more showers were forecast for tonight.

Both gladiators hustled back to the training grind in the same mid-town gymnasium. They went through their paces this afternoon and will continue through Sunday. Neither will work Monday.

ABERDEEN IN FOOTBALL WIN OVER CHELSEA

Scottish Eleven Blanks Englishmen in Tournament In Scotland

GLASGOW, May 27 (AP).—Aberdeen defeated Chelsea 4-0 tonight to give Scottish teams two straight victories over English clubs in the Empire Exhibition football tournament at Ibrox Stadium. In the initial match of the competition Celtic trimmed Sunderland 3-1.

In remaining first-round encounters Rangers will meet Everton and Hearts clash with Brentford. The Dons will now meet the winner of the Rangers-Everton match in the semi-finals.

Twenty thousand spectators saw the Scots at their best. After surviving Chelsea's opening thrust they dominated the rest of the play. Strauss, Aberdeen's South African outside-left, put his team in the lead after five minutes, and before the interval Thompson and Armstrong added further goals. Hamilton netted the Dons' fourth thirty minutes after the resumption.

The teams follow:
Aberdeen—Goal, Johnstone; backs, Cooper and Adey; halfbacks, Dunlop, Nicholson and Thompson; forwards, Smith, Hamilton, Armstrong, Hume and Strauss.

Chelsea—Goal, Jackson; backs, Barkas and Barber; halfbacks, Allum, Craig and Weaver; forwards, Spence, Burgess, Payne, Gibbons and Buchanan.

SOMERVILLE LOSES IN SEMIS; AMERICAN IN TWO FINE VICTORIES

Canadian Golf Champion Eliminated by Carl Ewing After Winning Morning Match—Yates Trims Cyril Tolley, 3 and 2, and Then Puts Out Hector Thomson at the Nineteenth

TROON, Scotland, May 27 (AP).—It's Charley Yates, from the same Atlanta, Ga., that gave Bobby Jones to golf against Cecil Ewing, the Sligo slasher, for the British Amateur championship over thirty-six holes tomorrow.

The devil-may-care American with the golden-putting touch, and the burly athlete from Western Eire, with the appearance of a Rugby fullback, emerged today as finalists of a field of more than 200 who set out Monday in quest of the most coveted amateur golf title.

Ewing blasted Sandy Somerville and Canada's hopes this afternoon. While the Canadian champion from London, Ont., actually beat himself by saving his worst round for the semi-final, Ewing, one of the game's longest hitters, still had the shots and the steadiness to match par on the all-important home hole and clinch a 2-up victory.

GREAT FINISH
The youthful Yates gained the final by firing a birdie on the first extra hole after a bitter semi-final against Scotland's Hector Thomson, the 1936 titleholder. With a crowd of 10,000 attempting to look on, Yates walked up to his ball on that nineteenth hole, took scarcely a glance at the line and tapped it nine feet into the cup.

Neither of the finalists ever held a major title. Ewing is a former West of Ireland champion, while the blond Yates once ruled the United States inter-collegiate ranks. Both are members of the Walker Cup teams which will collide next Thursday in the historic Anglo-American tests.

While Somerville scrambled his chances in a vicious west wind with a round that was six over par, he still had the comfort of knowing he had advanced further than in his previous tries for the title.

In 1933 he got into the sixth round, one less than in the current tourney. In 1935 he fell in the first day of firing.

After scoring a 2-up win over H. W. Hattersley, of Australia, in the morning's quarter-finals with a display that often was brilliant, the solemn Canadian suffered a complete collapse of his game at the start of the semi-final. He was five over par through the first four holes and Ewing won each of them.

Yates was a double killer of ex-champions. This morning he eliminated Cyril Tolley, English winner of the title in 1920 and '26, by 3 and 2.

The boys are scheduled to step four rounds in one of the feature bouts on the card.

Blond-thatched Wal Christiansen, former Calgary boxer, who has scored a number of knockouts since coming to the city, will swap punches with Cummings, Port Angeles, over the five-round route. The local fighter shows plenty of leather and packs punching power in both hands.

"TEST PILOT" TO OPEN HERE TODAY

Capitol Film Stars Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Spencer Tracy and Lionel Barrymore

Spectacular flying, four stellar players and a four-star story provide thrilling entertainment in "Test Pilot," most authentic aviation picture yet produced, which will start today at the Capitol Theatre.

Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Spencer Tracy and Lionel Barrymore head the cast of the first air picture produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in more than two years. Director Victor Fleming has incorporated some of the most striking flying scenes yet seen in an aviation picture. The nature of the subject, dealing as it does with men who daily dare their lives in a duel with death, insures a world of thrills. They're there.

DOMINION Grim in implications, but unfolding a poignant romance of young love on a prison threshold, the tense, dynamic drama, "Penitentiary," is now showing at the Dominion Theatre. Jean Parker, John Howard and Walter Connolly are featured.

OAK BAY Clive Brook, Anna Todd and Margaretta Scott head the strong cast in "Action for Slander," which will end today at the Oak Bay Theatre. Produced by Alexander Korda and Victor Saville, this is said to be one of the finest dramas of the year.

PLAZA The 750,000 "amps" used to illuminate a single setting in Columbia's "Racketeers in Exile"—an immense church scene—would light up an entire city of 82,000 population for an hour's time. The film will show for the last times today at the Plaza Theatre.

ATLAS One of the largest single sets ever erected in Hollywood will be seen in "Mad About Music," Deanna Durbin's current Universal production, which will end today at the Atlas Theatre, with Herbert Marshall, Gail Patrick, William Frawley, Arthur Treacher and others in important roles.

COLUMBIA The adventures of a theatre group of traveling cowboys, who auction horses at different rodeos, form the swift action of the musical Western, "The Old Barn Dance," which will end today at the Columbia Theatre. Gene Autry and Smiley Burnette head the cast of this Republic attraction.

RUSSIAN BALLET TO BE REVUE FEATURE

One of the outstanding ballets to be presented in the forthcoming revue, "Footlight Frolics," will be the scene entitled "Rural Russia."

The rural districts of Russia have always been famous for their unusual and colorful dancing, so the arrangement offers almost unlimited possibilities, according to the director, Dorothy Wilson. Many of these dances are entirely new to the

Chicago Cubs Move Up on Idle Giants By Beating Pirates

Bill Lee Pitches Charlie Grimm's Team Within Two Games of New York—Tigers Trim White Sox to Gain Ground—Homer by Greenberg

(By the Canadian Press)

Those up-and-coming Chicago Cubs and the Detroit Tigers did some plain and fancy sneaking-up on the league leaders today as rain washed out other scheduled games in both the National and American Leagues.

The Cubs climbed to within two games of the New York Giants as they won the only National League game, 5-0, over Pittsburgh, while the Tigers climbed into fifth position in the American circuit with a 5-2 decision against Chicago's White Sox.

The day provided its tid-bits for the record books, too. Hank Greenberg hit a 440-foot homer, his eleventh of the season, and the first ever hit into the dead centerfield bleachers since the Chicago stands were erected in 1927.

The homer was part of the timely supporting offensive the Tigers gave Vernon Kennedy, Detroit screwball artist and a former White Sox himself. He held his former mates to six hits for his seventh consecutive victory.

The Cubs visited Pittsburgh for the National League engagement, and combined Bill Lee's right arm and Gabby Hartnett's big bat to put down the revamped Pirates. The Cubs put four runs across in the fourth and made it unanimous with another in the seventh.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

When a Smiling Zinnia Looks Up in Your Face, Dear . . . You'll Feel as Though You've Been Rewarded for All Your Trouble.

Jane Dixon Says:

A MAN WHO MARRIED THE MOTHER OF THREE CHILDREN IS FLABBERGASTED BECAUSE HIS WIFE OF A FEW MONTHS SEEMS TO HAVE LOST HER AFFECTION FOR HIM

After marriage men become undemonstrative, even indifferent much sooner and more frequently than do women. Usually it is the wife who complains that "the dew is off the rose," and that the fond sweet heart of pre-marital days has become a matter-of-fact husband to whom gestures of affection are "silly" and terms of endearment are mishmash.

It sometimes happens, however, that the shoe is on the other foot, the husband is the one who wonders what has become of the romance of yesterday. Today's problem concerns the wondering husband.

"Dear Jane Dixon: I've been married only a few months and already I'm wretched with uncertainty.

"When we were first married, my wife made a great fuss over me. She was as affectionate as any woman could be. Now it seems she cares nothing for me. I have asked her if she has lost all love for me, and she insists she has not. But she scarcely notices me at all. She says it is because she is feeling badly most of the time.

"She has three children by a former marriage. I like the children, and she says I am ten times better to them than their own father ever was. When they ask for anything I can afford I get it for them at once, and for her, too. I call the children my own in the presence of those who do not know of the former marriage. This is at her request.

"What do you think could be wrong? Are the children coming between us? I feel like leaving, even though it would ruin my happiness. If I try to kiss my wife or put my arms around her she wants to run from me. She seems to have no desire for any other man; declares she would have no one but me. Yet her actions lead me to suspect she may be fooling me. Please help—Your Worried Friend."

Comment: The pretence to others that you are the children's father is both stupid and unnecessary, and eventually will lead to confusion and embarrassment for all of you. You are leading the children to practice deception, to conceal a simple truth that has no damaging effect on them, on their mother or on you.

As for your wife's conduct, if she really is in ill-health, that may be the reason for her apparent change in attitude. Insist that she see a physician to determine whether there is anything physically wrong with her. If the doctor gives her a clean bill of health, then you should insist on some sort of a readjustment of your marital relations. It is unnatural for a wife to turn away from the affectionate gestures of a loved and loving husband.

That Body Yours

JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

WHERE RADIUM AND X-RAY ARE MOST EFFECTIVE IN CURING CANCER

Now that the problem of cancer has become a part of our national, in fact, family life, and thousands who in former days would have been doomed are being cured and restored to home and business, the question may be asked why is the knife used to remove cancer in some cases, whilst in others radium and the X-ray seem to be just as effective. Generally speaking, radium is used if the cancer can be easily reached.

Dr. Antoine Lacassagne, of the Radium Institute of the University of Paris, in an article in Canadian Medical Association Journal says: "The anatomical site—place in or on the body—often determines the choice as to what method of treatment should be used. Two locations where radium is the choice because of its effectiveness are the mouth and the uterus.

"The greater part of cancers of the mouth were incurable until radium was used. The front part of the tongue permits a correct implantation of radioactive needles; in others, such as the floor of the mouth or the hard palate, a small radiating apparatus can be applied without great difficulty; in the lining surface of the cheeks excellent results can likewise be obtained."

Cancers arising in the forward part of the back of the tongue are easily reached and an effective cure obtained by radium. Unfortunately the little glands of the neck, adjoining the mouth, are not reached effectively by radium and usually must be removed by surgery.

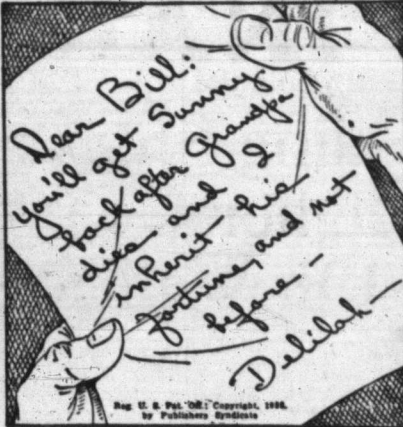

In cancer of the front part of the uterus the results obtained by radium have been excellent. In other regions than those above mentioned and in some forms of rapid growth cancers the X-rays give effective cures.

Dr. Lacassagne has this to say of a great many cancers: "Too many cancers, among the most frequent, do not respond in a satisfactory manner to radium, notably cancer of stomach and intestine, of the bladder, and of the prostate gland at neck of bladder."
